This Afternoon

Twenty-One in The Army Detachment; One
Recruit For The Navy Leaves For
St. Paul at 1:05 P. M.

It seemed as if all Brainerd and especially the whole high school turned out this afternoon to do honor to the Brainerd boys and others from this vicinity departing today on the Duluth train to serve in the U. S. Army. From Duluth the boys will be sent to the Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis, Mo., for training.

The crowd cheered, the high school yells were given in all their patriotic intensity, hundreds of schoolmates of the boys flashed the flags of this country and infantrymen of the First Minnesota stationed at Brainerd added their cheers to those of the schools and citizens. No one paid any attention to the rain.

For a time the detachment of recruits kept together, but friends stepped in to shake hands and relatives to kiss them and they were quickly separated to the various coaches.

Werner Hemstead, Jr., has applied for enlistment in the officers reserve training camp at Fort Snelling, St. Paul.

Joseph J. Lambert of Brainerd has under telegraphic authority from the adjutant general's office been assigned as a member of the recruiting party for the Duluth office.

Make Peace Offer Torn with Strikes Endeavor to Unite

(By United Press)
The Hague, May 1—Chancellor Hollweg will make a peace offer in the German reichstag on Thursday the Berliner Tageblatt announces. Germany is believed torn with strikes discontent over food rations and a demand for greater popular participation in the government has caused the leaders to decide on a peace move, with little hope of acceptance by the allies. The chief object is to unite the factions as was the peace move last December.

No Knowledge of Peace Offer by Chancellor Hollweg

Washington, May 1—State department officials said they had no official word of the peace offer to be made by Chancellor Hollweg to the Reichstag. The German government is in the war to a finish, and if Germany is merely making a strategic move or a propaganda the efforts will fail.

GERMAN-AMERICANS STYLED AS OUTLAWS

Washington, May 1—Count von Bernstorff, former German ambassador to the United States, before the war spoke disparagingly of German citizens in this country, according to a statement made public by Senator Phelan of California, in commenting on the passage of the war army bill. The remarks attributed to Von Bernstorff, Senator Phelan explained, were made during an interview which he had with the ambassador in Munich in 1913, in an effort to get Germany to participate in the Panama Pacific exposition. Mr. Phelan urged a German exhibit on the ground that Germans in the United States would be proud of it.

"He immediately resented that," said Senator Phelan in his statement. "Much to my surprise, he substantially said, 'Do not talk about these people. We do not care what they think or want. They have deserted the Fatherland. They have run away to avoid military duty. They have been false to the old traditions. They are outlaws.'"

"I think this should help our German-American citizens to see that their duty lies with America in this struggle."

Government Places Censorship on Cables Apply to All Lines

(By United Press)

Washington, May 1—The government places censorship on cables, telegraph and telephones, applying the cable prohibition to all lines, while the telegraph and telephone censorship applies along the Mexican borders only, and is aimed to prevent the escape of valuable military information which would spread the German propaganda. President Wilson has ordered the censorship for the war and navy department worked out and the regulations put into immediate effect.

The censorship hits the newspapers the hardest but also affects commercial messages. Navy and army officers are in charge of the censoring.

Here's a "Teddy Roosevelt" and the Man Who Helped It Sink a German Submarine

Captain Emery Rice

"Teddy Roosevelt" was the name of the six-inch gun which from the stern of the Mongolia fired the first shot in the war of the United States on Germany and thereby sank an enemy submarine. This is the way "Teddy Roosevelt" looked four weeks or more ago when he was being hoisted to the place of action aboard the Mongolia. Captain Emery Rice, master of the ship, steered her so the rear gun was trained on the submarine when she rose, and the American naval gunners did the rest.

On motion of the defendants in the case that a writ of habeas corpus issue and Livingston be allowed to attend the trial of the case, Judge Wright assented and Livingston will be on hand when the case is heard.

On the criminal calendar there still remain three cases against Livingston, charging grand larceny in the first degree and one count charging forgery. County Attorney S. F. Alderman asked the cases be continued, but Attorney W. W. Bane, representing Livingston, asked the cases be heard as the man would be in court on the other case.

The first case to be taken up is Jesse C. Pleart vs B. A. Smith and E. J. Pengelly, copartners as the Miners Hospital in Crosby. This is a new trial of a case heard before Judge W. S. McClenahan, in which the plaintiff had recovered a verdict. It alleges malpractice on the part of the defendants.

The next on the call will be The J. R. Watkins Medical Co. vs Herman Wendt, Edward Boppel and John Herman Koop.

The third case will be B. A. Smith and E. J. Pengelly, copartners as the Miners Hospital of Crosby vs San Vukovich.

The fourth will be M. A. Clouse vs Dell Leonard.

WASHINGTON TOMB

Mount Vernon, Va., April 30.—The flags of Great Britain, France and the United States floated together over the tomb of George Washington.

Beneath them spokesmen of the three great democracies paid homage to America's soldier and statesman and pledged themselves, each to the other in the name of the dead, to prosecute the present mighty struggle against autocracy on the lines he himself had followed in bringing America into being.

In groups of twos and threes an eminent gathering, including the members of the French and British war commissions, the president's cabinet and members of congress, had strolled through the sloping grounds from the river bank until perhaps half a hundred persons stood with bared heads in a semi-circle before the tomb.

Without formality Secretary Daniels motioned to M. Viviani, minister of justice, who advanced slowly into the center. Before the tomb of Washington, M. Viviani made an address, in which the whole force of his emotional power, deepened by the significance and solemnity of the occasion, fought for expression.

BUTLER A "SUBMISSIMIST"

Willing to Grant Anything That Will Bring the War to a Successful Termination—Thousands of Loyal Letters Are Received by Representatives and Senators.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, April 29.—[Special.]—War legislation which no one would have dreamed of a short time ago is now pushed through congress with great rapidity. Evidently congress intends to do all it can to further the prosecution of the war against Germany.

Congressman Butler of Pennsylvania, a Republican and the ranking minority member of the committee on naval affairs, voiced the view of a great many members of congress during the discussion of one of these war measures when he said that he was a "submissimist." He was willing to submit to whatever the administration thought was necessary to carry on the war.

Commander in Chief.

I sometimes wonder whether the people of the whole country realize how much is meant by the words "commander in chief of the army and navy," words used in the constitution which in times of war vest in the president of the United States more power than the czar of Russia had before he was dethroned, more power than is possessed by the Kaiser of Germany, more power than any man ever had in any modern government.

There is nothing that the commander in chief in the United States cannot do in time of war. He is absolute. The only check is that congress must make appropriations every two years. But there never was a congress—in time of war—that was not under the control of the president, the commander in chief.

The President Wins.

It is not surprising under these circumstances that the president wins in any contest he has with congress. The president got just the kind of war declaration he wanted. He had the kind of bond bill passed which suited him. He had various other war measures passed in accord with his desires. Even in the matter of conscription, opposed by so many men, he has his way.

"Stand by the president," is the strongest phrase that has ever been framed. It means that, no matter what a majority of the people may think or what their representatives may believe wise, whatever the president wants must be granted.

Loyal Letters.

Thousands of letters, petitions, resolutions and, in fact, all kinds of documents are being received by senators and representatives indicating the loyalty of the people of the United States to the government at the present time. These communications come from civic bodies and various other kinds of organizations and from individuals. Many of them contain suggestions as to what ought to be done, advice to senators and representatives and to officers of the federal government.

For a time the columns of the Congressional Record overflowed with these communications until protests were made by many senators, and there has been an effort during the past few days to keep out of the Record all such matters as far as possible. Of course only comparatively few people read the Congressional Record, and it is impossible for the press of the country to carry even a small proportion of this class of literature and give it publicity. The loyal feature of it, however, is gratifying to the government at a time when the nation is preparing for its part in the greatest war of history.

Guards Everywhere.

In these days of uncertainty it is found necessary to place guards almost everywhere, but even with the precautions that have been taken in regard to public buildings in Washington one man was able to break into the committee on naval affairs of the senate one night, and it was supposed that he was in search of information relative to the navy. "I do not understand," said Senator Ollie James of Kentucky, "how that fellow managed to secrete himself in the capitol in view of all the precautions that have been taken."

Foreigners Willing to Serve.

Congressman James has made up a list of thirty-five names of men who offered to enlist at Ironwood, Mich., and a remarkable fact about the list is that it is made up largely of foreigners. With a few purely American names are those of Polish, Austrian, Scandinavian, Finnish, Italian, French and Croatian.

Congressman James says that the men of foreign birth or parentage in his district are among the most loyal citizens of the republic.

A Holy Chinese City.

One of the least known cities of China is Urga, where sand, squalor and holy men are the predominating features. Urga lies at the edge of a desert in north China, and its people are most un-Chinese in appearance. It is said that every third man met there is a lama. The chief lama in Urga is as great a personage in the north as the Dalai lama half a continent away. Thousands upon thousands of lesser lamas adore him and tens of thousands of the populace in their turn adore the lesser lamas. There is also a college for the study of religion in Urga, so that men in all stages of holiness are present in great numbers. There are frequent festivals.

Miss Ina Rosalie Sheridan and Daniel Estay Whitney Married at 1st Congregational Church

REV. G. P. SHERIDAN OFFICIATED

Church was Crowded with the Many Friends of the Principals, Ring Service Given

A pretty church wedding solemnized in Brainerd this morning and attended by the largest audience in the history of the church, was that of Miss Ina Rosalie Sheridan and Daniel Estay Whitney at the First Congregational church, Rev. G. P. Sheridan, brother of the bride, officiating. The church was beautifully decorated by the Sewing Circle under the supervision of Mrs. Werner Hemstead, flowers and ferns being used in profusion.

Shortly after 10:15 o'clock the music pealed out, being the strains of the large movement from the fourth sonata of Handel, played by Edwin Harris Bergh, violinist and Miss Evelyn Erickson, pianist. Then came the processional, "Mendelssohn's Wedding March."

The bridegroom and his best man, H. E. Flynn, of St. Paul, assistant state high school inspector and a life long friend, walked from the side to the altar.

Down the main aisle of the church came the bride on the arm of her brother, Rev. Sheridan. She was beautifully gowned in pussywillow white taffeta and princess lace, and wore a white tulle and lace picture hat. She carried pink roses.

The little flower girl, Kathryne Albright, followed. She was dressed in white and carried a basket of sweet peas in which nestled the ring.

The maid of honor was Miss Macbelle Grewcox who was attired in white lace with an overdrape of pink mesaline and wore a picture hat. She carried pink roses.

The ring service was repeated and for a time it seemed that Rev. Sheridan would be unable to proceed, as he was overcome with emotion. The bridal party filed out to the strains of the recessional, Mendelssohn's "March of the Priests."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Sheridan of London, England, and has resided four years in Brainerd. She is a charming and lovely girl. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C.

B. Whitney of Clearwater and has been in business in Brainerd the past ten years.

Following the ceremony there was a wedding breakfast served at the home of Rev. Sheridan. Mrs. Abbie F. Smith and Mrs. Irma Camp Hartley presided assisted by Miss Corna Stickney and Miss Bertha Mahlum. The dining room was decorated with sweet peas and ferns.

Following a short wedding tour, Mr. and Mrs. Whitney will make their home in Brainerd.

Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Whitney, parents of the bridegroom, of Clearwater; Mr. and Mrs. William McLeod of St. Paul; Mr. and Mrs. Smith of Annandale; H. E. Flynn of St. Paul.

"WAR BRIDES" IS TREMENDOUS

Spectacle is a Plea for Woman's Suffrage, for an End to War, for Equal Justice

Large Crowds There Monday, to be Repeated This Tuesday Afternoon and Evening

A tremendous spectacle, powerful in awakening the emotions, so nicely graduated by the master hand of Brenon that interest is sustained in gradually increasing intensity until the dramatic climax, "War Brides" drew unusually large crowds to the "Best" Monday afternoon and evening. The play will be repeated this Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Whereas Griffith in "The Fall of a Nation" hammers the emotions with pile driver rapidity, clash succeeding clash, Brenon works with more skillful art and carries his point with defter hand, suggesting more frequently by the highest in motion picture art than by direct view.

"Shall women raise sons simply as fodder for cannon?"

"Shall men decide on war and give women no voice in that decision?"

"Shall equal suffrage be denied the women?"

These are a few of the questions which crowd into the minds of the spectators.

And Nazimova, Russian tragedienne, carries her role in supreme effort to the terrific end when she willingly offers herself as a sacrifice to principle.

There are no battle scenes in "War Brides". A trench is shown with soldiers swarming about like bees in a hive, and a deluge of gas bombs follows, but no battle scene is enacted.

The main thread of the story shows the sufferings of the women at home. Joan, the young widow, enacted by Nazimova, defies the military authorities, and urges the young women of the village to refuse to become brides of the departing soldiers. She is imprisoned, escapes from the woman jailor, leads a band of mourning women and their children to meet the king, and halts his automobile. There she delivers her own message in dramatic manner.

A six piece orchestra led by Julius Witham furnished appropriate music. The instrumentation was Mr. Witham violin, Miss Cecil Witham piano, Wm. Graham cornet, Wm. Rodenkirchen and Wilfred Canan cellists, Robert Larson drums.

MAY ASK MINIMUM PRICE

Mass Meeting of Farmers Called at Fargo May 23.

Fargo, N. D., May 1.—A minimum price of $1 a bushel for potatoes and $2 a bushel for wheat, to be guaranteed by the United States and Canadian governments to farmers, may be asked at a mass meeting of farmers in Fargo May 23 and 24, called by the Equity Co-Operative exchange. Farmers' organizations of western Canada have been invited to send representatives. The mass meeting will be asked to petition congress and the Dominion government to determine what a fair price on foodstuffs is and then to fix a minimum price. The need for a maximum price to consumers also will be discussed and a resolution will be introduced asking the government to prohibit future trading in grains. Labor needs of farmers will be discussed.

Race Horses Perish in Fire.

New York, May 1.—The stable of Schuyler L. Parsons and H. K. Knapp at Belmont park was burned and the twenty-eight race horses perished. The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin. On April 7 six incendiary fires were set at the park and $1,000,000 damage was done.

Moment Musical and Marche Militaire, as well as another impressive concert number will be rendered by the orchestra consisting of violins, violas, cellos and piano.

In conjunction with this the pupils will each play a solo of their choosing in which they will put in their own interpretation.

Assisting in the program is Miss Helen Kiebler, who has shown her real talent as accompanist in the last recital, Dr. E. E. Long, one of Brainerd's leading vocalists, will be heard in a baritone solo. Piano selections will be given by Miss Ione Rowley and Master Harold Jones, pupils of Prof. W. P. Bartsch.

An added number is that of Miss Mabel Johnson who will sing a solo, the accompaniment being played by Miss Bessie Paine.

The program will be given under the auspices of the Women's Relief Corps, a small admission of fifteen cents will be charged, all proceeds to be turned over to them to aid the Red Cross. An agreeable evening of music is assured. Pupils taking part are: First violin, Geraldine Kiebler, Hazel Worden, Jennie Keller; second violin, Gordon Myrick, Robert Johnson; Viola, Hazel Keller, Sigurd Olson; cello, John Gemmell, Oliver Benson; Axel Anderson, flute; accompanists to orchestra, Miss Helen Kiebler and Mrs. Wm. Swimming With a Cold.

In an address before the leading ear, nose and throat specialists of the country Dr. Hill Hastings of Los Angeles recently called attention to the danger of a person's swimming, and particularly diving, when he has a cold in the head. Comparatively few persons realize that it is dangerous, and many even believe that when they have recovered from a cold and are still annoyed by excessive thick secretions in the nose they can find relief by diving or plunging the head under water. The purulent matter washed out is not only a danger to others, says Dr. Hastings, but the diver himself runs a risk of forcing some of the pus into his middle ear. Most specialists have observed that cases of mastoid abscess are common every summer during the swimming season. At the large ear, nose and throat hospitals it is recognized that the swimming season invariably brings on "a crop of mastoids." The advice to keep out of the water until a "head cold" is entirely cleared up cannot be too strongly emphasized.

Imagination.

The gift of imagination appears to be the peculiar privilege of man. The architecture of the beaver is clever and ingenious, but the work of one beaver differs only from that of his fellow in the shape and nature of the wood at their respective command. The cells of a honeycomb, beautiful and mathematically correct as they are, differ in no particular from those in every other bee's construction. Every village boy knows that one thrush's nest is repeated character for character in that of another. With you it is different; each one of you can put something of himself into his work, and unless he does so he becomes a mere copyist, an echo and not a sound, a purveyor of "white robed innocence" and "dower bespangled meads."—Samuel Johnson.

DR. R. H. BEACH TO SPEAK HERE

Dr. R. H. Beach, of Glendive, Mont., prominent physician and surgeon, will deliver the address to the graduating class of the Northern Pacific Beneficial Association Training School for Nurses Thursday evening at the Citizens State bank hall. He arrived in Brainerd today.

BRAINERD'S ODDEST STORIES OF TODAY

Man advertised a baby buggy for sale in the Dispatch want ad column and got 14 replies, the parties walking to his home to take a look at the buggy. Buggies appear to be in demand in Brainerd this spring.

There is a movement on foot to kill off dogs and cats and thus assist to conserve the food supply. Fellows with gardens in Brainerd endorse the project, for if there's anything that will make a man fighting mad, it's to catch a dog on your lawn scratching in holes with his hind feet or else ripping through your garden patch.

Brainerd's second winter started April 25 when an inch and a half of snow fell. April 28 the snow was repeated. Yesterday morning another con- signment of the beautiful arrived. Brainerd's army of early gardeners was watching the skies with real concern and wondering if the powers above were aware how much stuff had been planted.

Conscription may not be relished by some, but it will show the Germans very plainly that Uncle Sam means business. A record of Uncle Sam's wars shows he was slow to start, but irresistible at the finish.

He found a quiet hour and the moral. A certain merchant visited the store of his non-advertising competitor for one hour each day on four consecutive days. At length the non-advertising merchant asked his visitor why he came in every day. The reply was: "I hope you won't mind. My doctor prescribed absolute quiet for an hour after luncheon each day, so I came here."

"Any man can get along with any woman," observed a wise Brainerd man. "If he let's her have her way."

Advertising has not ceased since the war started. In fact, the largest industries of the country are making heavier appropriations than ever before in printer's ink, convinced that the United States can carry on a tremendous war and big business at the same time.

How War Comes.

The precedents of history show that the great majority of the world's conflicts have been begun before formal declarations of war were made. According to authorities on international law, a condition of war arises in three ways:

First.—Declaration of war.

Second.—A proclamation or manifesto declaring that a state of war exists.

Third.—Through the commission of hostile acts of force.

One authority on international law, describing ways in which hostilities may begin without formal declaration, says, "Acts of force by way of reprisals or during a pacific blockade or during an intervention might be forcibly resisted, * * * hostilities breaking out in this way."—New York World.

Vast Russia.

"It is difficult without a map to give the reader any idea of how far away northeast Siberia is," says an English magazine. "The European imagination travels slowly beyond the Ural mountains into that great frozen plain which embraces nearly the whole of northern Asia and ends at the Pacific ocean. Russia in Europe is vast, but the area of her Asiatic dominions exceeds that of the whole of Europe by more than a million square miles, though this enormous tract of country contains fewer inhabitants than half the population of London."

SHIPPING LOSSES GROWING

Larger Number of German Submarines Are Operating.

London, May 1.—A vigorous attempt made in the house of commons failed to persuade the government to adopt a policy of greater publicity with regard to the submarine warfare. The only satisfaction given critics of the government was a promise the matter would be discussed in secret session. Sir Edward Carson, first lord of the admiralty, admitted a larger number of submarines are operating and that generally shipping losses were increasing.

Brazil to Remain Neutral.

Rio Janeiro, May 1.—The Brazilian government has issued a proclamation of neutrality in respect to the war between the United States and Germany.

FRENCH ATTACK IN CHAMPAGNE

Capture Several Fortified German Trenches.

BRITISH ACTIVITY LESSENS

Along Front of About Four Miles the Republic's Forces Deliver Sharp Thrust and Occupy Teutonic Positions to Depths Ranging From Five Hundred to One Thousand Yards.

London, May 1.—The expected battle in the Champagne region of France, following days of acute gun preparation by the French, which was answered almost shot for shot by the Germans, at last has broken.

Seemingly synchronizing it with the somewhat lessened activity on the part of the British against the Germans on the Arras front the French, eastward from Rheims, launched an attack over a front of about four miles from the south of Beine to the east of Mont Carnillet and captured several fortified German trenches.

The offensive was sharp and at its conclusion the French line had been driven forward into territory previously occupied by the enemy to depths ranging relatively from 500 to 1,000 yards.

Simultaneously to the eastward a thrust by the French northeast of Mont Haut netted them a gain of about two-thirds of a mile and placed them virtually astride the Moronvilleries-Naurov road.

Violent Artillery Actions.

That the fighting in this region has not yet been brought to a conclusion is indicated by the official statement of the Paris war office, which announces artillery duels of violence still are going on. There also has been a continuation of the great artillery activity from St. Quentin to the Oise and along the Chemin-Des-Dames, northeast of Soissons.

Little news concerning the situation along the front from Lens to St. Quentin, where the British for several weeks have made notable gains, has been vouchsafed in the latest official communication.

London merely mentioned the repulse of a German attack east of Arras between Monchy-le-Preux and the Scarpe river.

The airmen continue their spectacular battles in the air behind the fighting lines. Many gallant fighters on both sides have been brought to earth in aerial fights. Berlin claims for one of her fighting aviators a total of fifty-two aircraft shot down since the beginning of the war.

BRITISH CLAMOR FOR ADMIRALTY SHAKEUP

London, May 1.—The British admiralty is under fire of public clamor. Lord Northcliffe, the man who led the crusade in 1915, which resulted in the great shakeup of the war office and Lloyd George's appointment as minister of munitions, is behind the movement for reorganization of the naval branch. Press and public appear to agree with him in the liveliest fashion.

The admiralty is under attack from three directions. First, there is widespread criticism of its failure more successfully to combat the German submarine menace; second, the admiralty is blamed for insufficient coast protection, permitting a number of German destroyer raids on seacoast cities; and, third—and probably most important—the public is aroused over suppression of full facts as to the seriousness of the submarine campaign and allied losses.

Lord Northcliffe advances the theory that if England was aware of exactly how great the inroads on her food consumption have been, due to submarines, the government would find it easier to apply economy measures.

FRENCH PARTY WILL TOUR

War Mission to Visit Eastern and Middle Western States.

Washington, May 1.—France's war mission will leave Washington soon on a tour of Eastern and Middle Western states, arranged to give its members an opportunity to see as much of the country as possible within a limited time.

The distinguished Frenchmen will go directly to Chicago and later will visit Kansas City, St. Louis, Springfield, Ill., Philadelphia, New York and Boston.

The tour probably will last a week or ten days.

Members of the mission will travel on a special train as the guests of the United States government.

Extraordinary precautions to insure the safety of the party while traveling have been taken.

QUICK MILITARY AID REQUESTED

CONFERENCE AT WHITE HOUSE

M. Viviani Discusses War Situation With President Wilson and Is Understood to Have Made an Appeal to Place American Soldiers on the Firing Line at Once.

Washington, May 1.—With the judgment of the French war mission as the American army general staff seemingly in conflict as to when American troops should be sent to France particular interest attached to a conference at the White House between President Wilson and Rene Viviani, head of the French mission.

Decision rests with the president, through his executive functions as commander-in-chief of the United States army. It is assumed the views of the French officials disclosed in Marshal Joffre's statement advising that American forces be formally presented to Mr. Wilson during the conference.

Stripped of all military pros and cons the proposal made by Marshal Joffre and apparently supported by all members of the French mission is understood here as providing that a small force of American troops, possibly a division numbering from 18,000 to 25,000 men, be sent at the earliest possible moment to French soil.

Admittedly, no American force that will be available for months could greatly influence the military situation by force of arms and so virtually the only effect would be the moral influence on the minds of the French people on the one hand and the German soldiers on the other.

Additional Training Needed.

On one point there is complete agreement between Marshal Joffre and the American officers; both believe any force sent to France, large or small, must be given additional training behind the battle lines.

There is reason to believe that the arguments of the French commissioners have been presented directly to American officers during the conferences here. These talks have been confidential, but from the general trend of the more public utterances of all members of the mission it is gathered an undercurrent of feeling is thrilling France with the belief that May, June and July will see great events on the battle front and that this feeling prompts much of the French desire that American troops by their presence swell the wave of French enthusiasm during those critical months.

Since it is the psychological effect that is sought troops with no more training than the border hardened national guard units would serve the purpose, in the French view.

French officers believe that with brief additional training within sound of guns at the front—possibly five weeks—the troops could take their places at the front.

ARMY COSTS TWO BILLION

Figures Just Issued on Britain's Outlay for Last Year.

London, May 1.—It cost Great Britain $2,628,063,320 to maintain the British army during the financial year of 1915-16, according to accounts just made public. The pay of the soldiers aggregated $490,000,000; the medical establishment cost $40,000,000; transportation, remounts and quartering, $480,000,000; supplies and clothing, $1,065,000,000; ordnance and general stores, $245,000,000; armaments, engineers' stores and aviation, $115,000,000; and payments on account of prisoners of war totaled $6,104,970. India gave $1,850,420.

WILSON AND BAKER TACKLE DRAFT BILL

Washington, May 1.—President Wilson and Secretary Baker have taken up differences between the senate and house army bills, in order that the conferees adjusting differences between the two houses may be informed as to where the administration stands on disputed points.

The age limits of twenty-one to twenty-seven fixed in the senate bill are preferred by the administration, since they more nearly approximate the desire of the war department for age limits of from nineteen to twenty-five years. The limits from twenty-one to forty fixed by the house bill are unsatisfactory to the administration.

The date for the registration of those liable to service will not be formally fixed by the president until the bill has been perfected in both houses.

Appropriations of $2,699,485,281 to meet urgent deficiencies in the army and navy, or $760,855,687 less than was recommended by the war and navy departments, are included in a bill favorably reported to the house by the appropriation committee.

To Prevent Old Age Coming Too Soon!

"Toxic poisons in the blood are thrown out by the kidneys. The kidneys act as filters for such products. If we wish to prevent old age coming too soon and increase our chances for a long life, we should drink plenty of pure water and take a little Anurie," says the world-famed Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y.

When suffering from backache, frequent or scanty urine, rheumatic pains here or there, or that constant tired, worn-out feeling, the simple way to overcome these disorders is merely to obtain a little Anurie from your nearest druggist and you will quickly notice the grand results! You will find it thirty-seven times more potent than lithia, and that it dissolves uric acid as hot water does sugar.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

New Ulm, Minn.—"Over twenty years ago I started to take 'Favorite Prescription.' It kept me in splendid condition during the expectant period, and I had a comparatively easy time and was in unusual health afterwards; also during middle life and it certainly has helped me through this critical period.

I do not suffer with hot flashes or dizziness at all or any other ailment which I have known other women to have at this time of life. I am glad to recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I also have the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, which I appreciate very much."

APPROVED BY BRITISH PRESS

Newspapers Endorse American Conscription Bill.

London, May 1.—Enthusiastic approval of the endorsement of conscription by the American congress was universally expressed by the London newspapers.

They expressed the opinion the draft would enable the United States to avoid many of the mistakes made by Great Britain.

Comment of the Pall Mall Gazette was typical. It said: "Passage of conscription legislation by congress shows an intention to profit by our mistakes. Our new ally will not now see the time when its wasted efforts will be blocked by postponement of the inevitable."
